Creating a Coordinated, Integrated Early Care and Education System: State Early Childhood Administration

In 2018, the Bipartisan Policy Center examined how states oversee federal and state funding dedicated to early childhood education, or ECE, programs. Now in 2021, we revisit each state system to understand enacted improvements and emerging challenges in state governance.

As the country adjusts to a new reality of work and home life amid the pandemic, American families are faced with the challenge of finding and affording quality child care, now more than ever. Early learning operates within a fragile business model, in which services cost more than most families can afford to pay. For this reason, states must administer funding with efficiency and effectiveness to ensure families are able to access programs and to maximize the reach of federal and state investments.

States are now responsible to distributing recent COVID-19 relief funding for child care—allocated through three successive relief packages by Congress in 2020—in addition to established funding streams that support multiple early childhood programs. The relief packages are intended to stabilize the fragile system that challenged access to affordable, reliable care. State governments are tasked with coordinating and combining the many different ECE funding streams allocated to them.

For all but one federal program, governors have wide discretion with regard to the administration and coordination of early childhood funding. The Bipartisan Policy Center set out to re-examine the issues of state governance, coordination, and integration by reviewing how states are meeting requirements set by federal statutes and agencies, as well as how states are capitalizing on the opportunity to create efficiency through their governance structures.

With this in mind, BPC is making recommendations at the federal and state level with an eye towards further reducing duplication and improving results for families. These recommendations are summarized in the full report. The following summarizes the findings for Washington, DC.

More state data, including funding levels and demographic information, can be found at https://bipartisanpolicy.org/report/national-child-care/.

STRENGTHS OF WASHINGTON, DC’S EARLY CARE AND EDUCATION SYSTEM

- Washington, DC administers six programs serving children—CCDF, Head Start Collaboration Office, state pre-k, IDEA Part C and Part B (Section 619), and CACFP—under one agency, which improves efficiency and allows for better alignment of eligibility and monitoring requirements and quality improvement activities.
- CACFP is administered through the same agency as state pre-k and CCDF, which improves efficiency and cost-effectiveness of monitoring and oversight.
- IDEA Part C and Part B, Section 619 are administered within the same agency, which can support smooth transition for parents.
- Washington DC’s Quality Rating and Improvement System (QRIS) is mandatory for providers receiving subsidy, which can ensure quality of care for all children.
- Washington, DC was awarded an Early Head Start - Child Care Partnership grant, which integrates Early Head Start services and resources into child care settings, aligns child care standards with Early Head Start Performance Standards, and creates opportunities for improving outcomes for children and families.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR WASHINGTON, DC’S EARLY CARE AND EDUCATION SYSTEM

- Ensure the SAC for Early Education and Care, mandated by the Improving Head Start for School Readiness Act of 2007, is fulfilling its required activities, including conducting a statewide needs assessment on the quality and availability of early care and learning programs.
Flow of Federal Early Childhood Funds: Washington, DC

Quality Rating Improvement System (QRIS)
Capital Quality has five levels with higher levels indicating higher levels of quality and serves as a tiered rate reimbursement system. Participation is mandatory for subsidy providers. Licensed non-subsidy providers may elect to participate. In Capital Quality, providers will be reimbursed based on four tiers of quality, with the highest level of quality receiving the highest reimbursement rate.

State Advisory Council (SAC)
The State Early Childhood Development Coordinating Council (SECDCC) improves collaboration and coordination among entities carrying out federally funded and D.C.-funded Pre-K and other early childhood programs.
BPC reviewed the following federally-funded programs to assess the efficiency and integration of Washington, DC’s early care and education system.

- Child Care and Development Fund (CCDF)
- Head Start
- Child Care Access Means Parents in School (CCAMPIS)
- Early Intervention Program for Infants and Toddlers with Disabilities (IDEA Part C)
- Preschool Development Grants (PDG)
- Preschool Grants for Children with Disabilities (IDEA Part B, Section 619)
